PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Long Life Cutting Cement Cast Iron Pipes! Thick gauge blade offers extra robustness and stability. These days you can cut most things with a recip saw and the right blade, but cement cast iron always proved awkward. The combination of highly abrasive mortar and hard cast iron is very useful for water pipes, but the same robustness that engineers value meant cement-lined pipes were a real problem during repair or replacement operations. The answer is diamond. Flash this blade in a muddy ditch, where only a recip saw can reach the water pipes you need to cut: The Bosch EXPERT Cement Cast Iron Reciprocating Saw Blade is not afraid to get dirty. Exceptionally durable cutting edge using Bosch Diamond Technology.
