PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

Long Life Cutting Window Stocks of any Material! First tooth designed to allow plunge cut. Cutting out windows for replacement or during demolition was a tough job when it involved sawing multiple window materials such as steel-reinforced wood or plastic. Since window fixing screws started using high-tensile engineering steel, the old Bi-Metal blades dont get through a single screw. By combining longevity, efficiency and the sheer ability to get any window or door demolition job done, the Bosch EXPERT Window Demolition Reciprocating Saw Blade is a firm favourite with window fitters. It even withstands contact with masonry, mortar and plaster. Exceptional durability is built in with Bosch Carbide Technology.
